THE WHISKY WAR.

The Crusade in New York.

New York, May 19.—A committee of the Women's Temperance Union waited upon the Excise Commissioners yesterday, to urge the consideration of their propositions for the stricter enforcement of the excise laws. The Commissioners assured the women of their intention to carry out the laws as fully as possible, and explained the difficulties attendant upon the execution of their duties. They are not, for instance, authorized to prosecute in Court for civil damages, and in cases where they have wished to lay the case under criminal laws, which make violations of the excise misdemeanors, punishable by one year's imprisonment, they find that the great rush of business in criminal courts obstructs them. They have filed with the District Attorney, since March last, seventy complaints, with proofs against the offenders, but only two indictments have been found, and the District Attorney has said there were so many cases of greater importance that it would be some time before they could all be reached. As to the general aspect of the temperance question, recent statistics developed the fact that in New York City, in 1873, the cases of drunkenness were twenty per cent. less than in Brooklyn and in Boston proportionately, and intemperance and the crimes resulting from it had decreased thirty per cent. within a year. The ladies, therefore, announced themselves satisfied, and stated that they would at once lend their energies toward influencing the District Attorney to move a rapid disposal of the complaints. Prayer was then made and the committee withdrew.

The Liquor Dealers' Protective Union met last evening. The Committee on Excise Board reported that they had called upon the Excise Commissioners with their propositions, and that the latter had treated them very rudely, calling them outlaws and rebels. Resolutions were adopted by the Association recommending that dealers make no application for license until the Excise Board are disposed to permit fairer terms, and also declaring that when members are interfered with by the Excise Board, the Protective Union will take upon itself their defense.

MASSACHUSETTS.

The Mill River Valley Disaster.

Springfield, Mass., May 19.—Several thousand more people visited the ruins in the Mill river valley to-day. Some twenty missing dead bodies have been dug out of the ruins of buildings and deposits of sand, and twenty-five or thirty more are still to be recovered.

The committee of the Legislature has examined the reservoir, and found that it was very poorly built. The specifications were not fulfilled, and the dam seems to have been built to slide off, as it did. Some four hundred volunteer laborers were at work to-day digging over the ruins for dead bodies, and 1,000 are expected tomorrow. All the destroyed villages except Skinnerville will probably be rebuilt, and already enough relief, some $50,000, has been contributed to take care of the poorer victims of the disaster.

EIGHT HOUR LAW.

Mass Meeting of Workingmen in Washington, D. C.

Washington, May 19.—At a workingmen's mass meeting here last night resolutions were adopted demanding the enforcement of the eight hour system and the removal of Architect Mullet, deprecating the introduction of coolies as threatening the existence of enlightened workmen, and favoring a people's freight railroad and the opening of water communication by the Government.

Minerva Irvin, a widow of Judge Amos Irvin, of Montgomery county, and daughter of the late General Edward Munger, died recently at Piqua. Her parents brought her to Marietta and settled there in 1795.

FIRST EDITION.

FORTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

FIRST SESSION.

The Legislative Appropriation Bill Passed by the Senate.

The House Amending the Customs Laws.

Government Officers not to Share in Informers' Moieties.

Washington, May 19, 1874.

SENATE.

The Senate met with six or eight Senators present, and the Chair stated that no business could be transacted until a quorum should attend. At 11:15 the roll was called, showing a quorum present, and business proceeded.

Final Adjournment.

Mr. Edmunds called up the resolutions submitted by him yesterday providing for the adjournment of Congress on the 22d of June, and it was agreed to without discussion.

Amending the Constitution.

Mr. Wright introduced a joint resolution proposing an additional amendment to the Constitution to provide that all claims and demands against the United States shall be presented or prosecuted within ten days after they occur or arise, or else be forever barred.

Claimants on Public Lands.

Mr. Wright called up the House bill for the benefit of occupying claimants on public lands. Passed.

Park on the Pacific.

Mr. Hager called up the bill authorizing the city and county of San Francisco to use the Presido reservation as a park and highway.

Pending the discussion, the morning hour expired and the bill went over.

Legislative Appropriation.

The Senate resumed consideration of the Legislative, Judicial and Executive Appropriation bill. The proviso in regard to the Public Printer, repealing the portion of the act providing for his appointment by the Senate, was struck out, and the Superintendent of Public Printing remains an officer of the Senate, as at present.

Mr. Morrill (Vt.) submitted an amendment as an additional section, repealing that clause of the last sundry civil appropriation bill which appropriates $600,000 to replace worn out and mutilated national bank currency, each national bank to reimburse the Treasury for printing its notes. Ruled out on a point of order.

Mr. West moved an amendment to provide for the employment of sixty-two clerks of class 3, instead of fifty-seven, in the office of the Auditor for the Postoffice Department. Agreed to.

He also moved an amendment to the fifth section in regard to unexpended balances being covered into the Treasury so as to provide that the section should not operate to prevent the fulfillment of contracts existing at the date of the passage of the act. Agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Sargent, the appropriation for contingent expenses of the executive office was increased from $4,000 to $6,000.

Mr. Hamlin submitted an amendment for three additional clerks in the office of the Fourth Auditor of the Treasury Department. Agreed to.

Mr. Frelinghuysen said the Secretary of State had presented to the Committee on Foreign Relations sundry amendments, which were unanimously approved by that committee, and on behalf of the committee he now offered them, as follows: To have a Second Assistant Secretary of State, to increase the number of fourth class clerks from ten to twelve, reduce the number of third class clerks from nine to six, to dispense entirely with second class clerks, to increase the number of first class clerks from eight to eleven, to create thirteen clerks to act as copyists, to increase the charge for passports to five dollars after July 1st, 1874, to authorize the Secretary of State to have charge of the distribution of the clerical force of his department from time to time as the interest of the service requires, and lastly, authorizing the use of the unexpended balance of $250,000 appropriated for the Geneva Commission to be used toward the payment of the expenses of the Fishery Commission which meets at Halifax in June next.

Mr. Frelinghuysen said the amendments increased the appropriation about $13,400, but the increase in the charge for passports, it was estimated, would put about $400,000 per annum in the Treasury.

The amendments were all agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Boutwell, ten chiefs of divisions were authorized in the Treasury Department, instead of eight, as reported by the committee, to be known as chiefs of the Division of Appointments, Warrants and Appropriations, Revenue, Marine and Life Saving Stations, Customs, Navigation, Internal Revenue, Sub-Treasury, Stationary, Printing and Blanks, Files and Records, and of Mails.

On motion of Mr. Ingalls, the appropriation for the office of Surveyor General of Kansas was increased from $7,500 to $9,700.

Mr. Edmunds submitted an amendment to the third section, which prohibits civil officers of the Government from receiving any perquisites or making private use of public property, so as to provide that it should not prevent the employment and payment by the Department of Justice of District Attorneys as now allowed by law for the performance of services not covered by their salaries or fees. Agreed to.

Several amendments for an increase of salaries of various subordinate officers were ruled out on points of order.

Mr. Morrill (Vt.) moved to amend the third section of the bill, in the clause forbidding civil officers from using Government property for their own private use, so as to except the Commissioner of Agriculture from the operation of the section.

After debate Mr. Morrill withdrew the amendment.

Mr. Frelinghuysen submitted an amendment providing that that section should not be construed to prevent the Commissioner of Agriculture from residing in the department.

Mr. Edmunds said the fact of the Commissioner residing in the department has been a reproach in the eye of the people of the country or years. He moved an amendment to that of Mr. Frelinghuysen's that no officer of the Treasury Department should be prevented from occupying apartments in that building. Rejected.

Debate ensued.

Mr. Cameron defended Judge Watts.

Mr. Saulsbury declared the Agricultural Department a myth, and not worth a farthing.

Mr. Morrill (Me.) moved to lay the amendment on the table. Lost—yeas 22, nays 24.

The amendment was rejected—yeas 21, nays 22.

Mr. Windom submitted an amendment for an increase of four in the clerical force in the office of the Comptroller of the Currency, which reinstates the number dropped by the House. Agreed to.

Mr. Morrill (Me.) offered an amendment authorizing the Secretary of War to detail enlisted men for duty in the Adjutant General's office. Agreed to.

He also submitted amendments to reinstate five clerks in the office of the First Comptroller of the Treasury and two in the office of the First Auditor. Agreed to.

Mr. Sargent moved to strike out the following words in the first section of the bill: "Or shall make any private use of such property or of the services or labor of any person in the employment or service of the United States, which service or labor is paid by the United States; provided that this shall not be construed to deprive any officer of the United States of such fees as are or may be expressly provided by law in addition to the salary or compensation of such property as may be expressly by law appropriated to the use of such officer." Agreed to.

The section as amended reads that no civil officer of the Government shall hereafter receive any compensation or perquisites, directly or indirectly, from the Treasury or property of the United States beyond his salary or compensation allowed by law, provided that this shall not be construed to prevent the employment and payment by the Department of Justice of District Attorneys as now allowed by law for the performance of services not covered by their salaries or fees.

Mr. Frelinghuysen moved an appropriation of $2,500 for the museum of the Agricultural Department. Rejected—Yeas 14, ayes 26.

He next moved an appropriation of $1,500 for chemicals and apparatus, and $300 for microscopes for that department. Agreed to.

The bill was then reported to the Senate and the amendments of the committee agreed to, with the exception of the section relating to covering into the Treasury of unexpended balances, which was modified so as to provide that it should take effect on the 1st of July, 1875, instead of 1874, as the committee recommended. The clause appropriating $4,400 for an assay office at Charlotte, N. C., which the Committee on Appropriations struck out, was reinstated.

The bill was then read the third time and passed.

Sundry Civil Appropriations.

Mr. Sargent, reported with amendments of an unimportant character, the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill. Ordered printed.

Adjourned.

HOUSE.

Naval Appropriation.

The House took up the Senate amendments to the Naval Appropriation bill. Some were concurred in, but others non-concurred in were sent to a Committee of Conference, and the Speaker appointed as such committee Messrs. Hale (Maine), Scofield and Marshall.

Customs Laws and Moieties.

The House then took up the bill reported by Mr. E. H. Roberts from the Committee on Ways and Means to amend the customs laws, and to repeal the system of moieties to informers in customs revenue cases.

Mr. Dawes moved an amendment to strike out the third section and add to the sixth section a provision that ano informer who shall pay to any officer of the United States any portion of the money received by him shall have a perpetual right of action for its recovery.

Mr. Beck, also of the Committee on Ways and Means, submitted an amendment making it unlawful for any Senator, Representative, or Delegate in Congress to act as agent, attorney, proctor, advocate, solicitor, or counsel, for any person against whom suits or proceedings are brought for violation of the revenue laws.

Mr. E. H. Roberts opened the discussion on the bill. He explained its provisions, and spoke earnestly in advocacy thereof.

Mr. Beck, a member of the Committee on Ways and Means, said the moiety system was a disgrace to any civilized country. It allowed an equal division to be made between the Government and thieves. The penalties inflicted under the law were altogether out of proportion to the offences. Those penalties and forfeitures had been inflicted without regard to the question of whether guilty intent existed or not; in other words, the committee had found a system of things prevailing which rendered necessary the bill now before the House. He proceeded to refer specially to the Phelps-Dodge case, and alluded to Senator Conkling and General Butler as being counsel for officials of the Custom House. He said that General Butler had been paid a large fee out of the portion received by Jayne and by the thief who had stolen papers from Phelps, Dodge & Co. How much Senator Conkling got he (Beck) did not know, because, although the committee had invited the Collector, the Naval Officer and Surveyor of the Port of New York to come before it, they had all declined the invitation.

Mr. Casson, another member of the Committee on Ways and Means, remarked that there was not a particle of evidence that Senator Conkling had received anything.

Mr. Wood, another member of the Committee on Ways and Means, made a speech in support of the bill.

Mr. Kasson, another member of the Committee on Ways and Means, while condemning the law under which such outrages had taken place, warned the House against sweeping away all guards and barriers against frauds. In this position, he said, he was supported by a majority of the merchants who had appeared before the Committee. He defended the third section, and trusted that no part of the bill would be struck out which tended to secure the rights of the Government and of honest importers.

Mr. Burchard, another member of the Committee on Ways and Means, gave his cordial and hearty support to the bill, but intimated that he should have liked to have seen the whole system of custom house oaths abolished, as had been done in England.

Mr. Niblack, another member of the Committee on Ways and Means, also advocated the bill, excepts as to the third section, which he opposed as anomalous and unusual. The Government, he argued, should be allowed to find its evidence just as private citizens do, without having the right to call on the adverse party for books and papers.

Mr. Beck said that he had been informed by Mr. Roberts that his (Beck's) amendment might endanger the passage of the bill, and as he regarded the bill as too important to run any risk in the matter, he would withdraw his amendment, and offer it with a bill which would be reported in regard to the Sanborn contracts.

Mr. Dawes, Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means, closed the debate in a speech supporting the measure. He referred to the fact that two years ago he had introduced a bill, which the House had passed, on the question of fines and penalties, but through some influence or other, he knew not what, that bill had been put to sleep in the Senate, and slept there to-day. A similar bill had again passed the House, and had gone to the Senate to slumber as its predecessor.

The House then proceeded to vote on Mr. Dawes' amendment to strike out the third section of the bill, and to add to the sixth section. The amendment was agreed to—97 to 93—and the bill as thus amended passed.

The third section is struck out and the sixth section is modified as follows:

Section 6. That, except in cases of smuggling as aforesaid, it shall not be lawful for any officer of the United States, under any pretense whatever, directly or indirectly, to receive, accept or contract for any portion of the money which may under any of the provisions of this act accrue to any such person furnishing information, and any such officer who shall so receive, accept or contract for any portion of money that may accrue as aforesaid, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $5,000, or imprisonment not more than one year, at the discretion of the Court, and shall not be thereafter legible to any office of honor, trust or emolument, or any such person so furnishing information as aforesaid who shall pay any such officer of the United States or any person for his use, directly or indirectly, any portion of said money, or any other valuable thing, on account of or because of such money, shall have a perpetual right of action against such officers or other persons and his legal representative to recover back the same or the value thereof.

Louisiana Contested Election.

Mr. Smith (N. Y.), from the Election Committee, made a report in the Louisiana contested election case, that neither of the claimants, Pinchback or Sheridan, had presented evidence to establish his right to a seat as Representative at large, but that they shall have the right to take further testimony.

Mr. Lamar presented a minority report, that Pinchback was not elected, and that Sheridan was.

The reports were ordered printed, and are to be called up hereafter.

Pacific Mail Subsidy.

Mr. Platt, from the Postoffice Committee, made a report on the Pacific Mail subsidy for a semi-monthly service, taking the ground that the conditions had not been complied with by the company, and consequently the contract had lapsed. Ordered printed and recommitted.

Final Adjournment.

During the debate on the moiety bill a message was received from the Senate announcing the passage of a resolution of adjournment.

Mr. Beck, who had the floor at the time, suggested that the Senate should be taken at its word, and said that he would yield to a motion to agree to the resolution.

Mr. Dawes coincided with that view, and asked leave to submit a motion, but

Mr. Casson objected until the pending matter should be disposed of.

At the close of the moiety question another effort was made to take up the adjournment resolution, but objection was made.

The House then took a recess till 7:30, the evening session to be for general debate.

CHICAGO.

Improvement of Water Navigation—Resolutions of the Board of Trade.

Chicago, May 19.—The Board of Trade to-day passed the following resolutions:

Whereas, This Board has been informed that negotiations are pending between the Governments of the United States and Great Britain and the Dominion of Canada, with a view to the enlargement and extension of our commercial relations with British North America; therefore,

Resolved, That we cordially commend the spirit of national amity and good will which these negotiations signify, and that we approve the purposes they are intended to accomplish.

Resolved, That we are in favor of the freest commercial intercourse between the United States and the Dominion of Canada that the revenue requirements of the two countries will admit.

Resolved, That the enlargement of the Welland and St. Lawrence Canals to the capacity of the lake harbors at an early and definite period is of the greatest importance as a means of cheapening the cost of transportation of western products to the seaboard; and such enlargement, together with the right of using said canals on the same terms as Canadian vessels, should be included in any treaty which may be negotiated, and the right of Canadian vessels to navigate on Lake Michigan and use American canals contiguous and connecting the great lakes should be placed on the same basis as the right of American vessels to navigate the St. Lawrence river and use the canals of Canada.

Resolved, That any treaty which may be concluded should run a sufficient length of time to assure the business community that the capital invested in such trade shall not be exposed to hazard or political contingencies.

Resolved, That this board would regard the conclusion of a treaty based on the foregoing principles as a sequel to the treaty of Washington and the Geneva Arbitration.

Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be transmitted to the Secretary of State, Secretary of the Treasury, to our Senators in Congress and to the British Minister at Washington, and also to the Secretary of State of the Dominion of Canada.

New York, May 19, 1874.

Reformed Episcopal Council.

The Reformed Episcopal Council resumed its session this morning, Bishop Cheny presiding. The service for the administration of communion was reconsidered, and debate took place in regard to the words used at the deliverence of the elements. It was voted to apoint a committee of conference on the subject.

Bishop Cheny reported from the committee a unanimous recommendation that the rubric and formula before delivering the bread should be changed so as to read: 'Then shall the minister first receive the commun on himself, and proceed to deliver the same to the minister assisting, and after that to the people, and before delivering bread he shall say to all communicants then around the table: 'The body of our Lord Jesus Christ, which was given for you, preserve your bodies and souls unto everlasting life,' and when he delivereth the bread he shall say: 'Take and eat this bread in remembrance that Christ died for thee, and feed on him in thy heart by faith with thanksgiving.'" The Committee also recommended that the rubric and formula before delivering the cup be so changed as to correspond with the foregoing.

The report was unanimously adopted, and Bishop Cheny offered a prayer of thanksgiving for the harmonious result of the deliberations on this question.

Rev. Stephen H. Tyng, Jr., then addressed the Council.

It was resolved to hold the next annual Council of the Church in Christ Church, Chicago, on the second Wednesday in May, 1875.

A motion was offered that the Council proceed to the election of another Bishop, which caused considerable debate. An amendment to the motion was adopted, to the effect that the General Committee be empowered to call a meeting of the General Council whenever in their judgment an emergency calls for a meeting of the whole Church that would cover the elections of bishops or any general business which might occur.

Colonel Ayreigg and Bishop Cummins were chosen as delegates to the next convocation of the Free Church of England, and Rev. Messrs. Windeyer and Morgan as alternates.

ARKANSAS.

The State House Evacuated by Brooks.

Little Rock, Ark., May 19.—About daylight this morning, Brooks, with a small squad of cavalry, evacuated the State House, going no one seems to know where. It is reported that he went out on the road toward Fort Smith. The Federal barricade across Markham street in front of City Hall was removed this morning.

Colonel Johnson, Secretary of State, went to the State House and put a squad of workmen to cleaning up. About 12 o'clock Gen. R. C. Newton, commanding Baxter's forces, with his staff, taking two companies with him, went to the State House and took possession, stationing sentinels throughout the grounds and building. After getting possession and examining the surroundings, Gen. Newton sent word to Gov. Baxter, who, in company with his staff, the Secretary of State and a few citizens, took a couple of carriages, and preceded by Gen. King White's cavalry, and followed by the infantry and artillery, marched up Markham street to the State House. At the gate the column halted. The party got out and the Governor proceeded to his room in the left wing of the State House, which had previously been occupied by General Newton, who was in waiting. The room was immediately filled with friends, congratulating the Governor.

Rejoicing.

The big 74-pounder was fired, and it was followed by one hundred and one guns from the two Parrotts. Intense enthusiasm prevailed.

The building was found in a very dilapidated condition. Earthworks and plank barricades were scattered throughout the grounds. The desks in the two legislative halls, Supreme Court room and other rooms had been improvised into barricades. Many of them were broken, and the utmost confusion prevailed. State arms were left lying loose around the building. Workmen have been busy throughout the day putting things to rights.

Contest for the Auditorship.

J. R. Berry, who claims to have been elected Auditor at the election in 1872, presented a petition to both Houses of the Legislature to-day to contest the right of Wheeler, the present occupant, to the office. The petition was received.

The House passed the Senate bill changing the time of holding the sessions of the Supreme Court to May and November.

In both Houses several members, who have been actively engaged with Brooks, appeared and took their seats. The Senate committee appointed to inquire if any Senators had been engaged in Brooks' rebellion reported that Senator John M. Clayton, as Colonel, and Senator R. A. Dawson, as Lieutenant Colonel, had been engaged with the insurgents. No action was taken on the report.

Civil Law Restored.

At 12 o'clock to day Gen. Newton turned over to the Mayor the city, and the latter at once discharged all policemen heretofore employed, and swore in one hundred citizens, who had volunteered for the purpose, as special police to protect citizens and property.

Resigned.

Attorney General Yonley to day sent his resignation to Gov. Bax which was accepted, and Maj. J. L. Withe s oen was appointed to the vacancy.

The Old Order of Things Looming Up.

Every thing is quiet and orderly this evening. The Federal forces retired to the arsenal. Baxter's troops occupy the State House and the old order of things begins to loom up. Nearly all the stores are open and business is being transacted as usual.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Arrest of Governor Moses.

Columbia, S. C., May 19.—The Sheriff of Orangeburg county undertook to arrest Governor Moses this morning at his private residence. The Governor declined to accept the service of the writ. He called upon Brigadier General Nash, commander of the National guards, all colored, to furnish him military protection. Soon three companies were ordered out under arms, and were distributed between the Executive Office and the Governor's residence. Large crowds gathered in the streets and around the guarded points. This afternoon, upon the advice of his counsel, he concluded to submit to the law, and gave bail. He did not surrender to the Orangeburg Sheriff, but to the Coroner of this county. The troops were dismissed. The streets are filled with military and business is paralized.

LOUISVILLE.

General Conference of the M. E. Church South.

Louisville, May 19.—The only matter of importance in the General Conference to-day was the report of the Committee on Church Trials. The report provides for the trial of bishops, presiding elders, local and traveling preachers and church members, all in about the same manner. The case of a Bishop is first brought before a committee of three presiding elders for investigation, where a charge shall be brought against him. He is then handed over to another Bishop, together with the committee, who shall pass upon his case, giving him the right to appeal to the General Conference. The section providing for the trial of a Bishop is the foundation of all church trials.

Prescott, Sanborn's Lawyer.

The Committee on Ways and Means had before it this morning Dickinson, a Boston lawyer, who furnished the committee with an interesting history of F. A. Prescott, Sanborn's lawyer. He detailed the circumstances by which Prescott took from a New Bedford boot and shoe dealer nine hundred dollars on pretense of settling for him a case of insufficient income tax. He gave a succinct history of Prescott's career from the time he was a clerk in the Internal Revenue Bureau, when he divulged correspondence from the Boston District Attorney's office, until the time when this same District Attorney (Hillard) made a motion for Prescott's admission to the bar, in ignorance of his antecedents as to Sanborn. He scouted the idea that he was a mysterious man. He would as soon think of mentioning Daniel Pratt in that character. He believed that Sanborn was simply put forward as a man through whom knowledge and information of revenue frauds might be utilized by others.

District Investigation.

In the District investigation ex-Senator Harlan testified as to the circumstances already published under which he offered to pay Corcoran's taxes at ten per cent. less than the face value. He also testified that N. G. Ordway had held a mortgage against the Chronicle amounting to $10,000, and that it was released by Henry D. Cooke accepting notes and the mortgage held by Ordway as security for the amount which was advanced by Cooke. He did not know whether the mortgage was assigned over to Cooke or not, but he did know that the notes were not; did not know from what source the money came, but Cooke gave him to understand that it was his brother Jay's money. He did not know that the sum advanced belonged to the Poor Fund of the city, which is in part made up by the Washington Market Company, of which Ordway is managing director, advancing the annual sum of $25,000.

Colonel Wright Rives, a West Point graduate and civil engineer, was called, and gave as the result of measurements made by him prior to the commencement of the District investigation, specifications showing that the Government had been overcharged upwards of $190,000. On the market space the Government was charged $500 more for five-sixths of the work than the entire improvement cost. He never found but one instance where the United States was undercharged.

Preparing for Nellie Grants Marriage.

Workmen to-day commenced the decoration of the East Room of the Executive Mansion, in which is to take place on Thursday morning the marriage of Miss Grant to Mr. Sartoris. Three hundred invitations have been issued, the largest number of persons outside of Washington, but it is thought not more than half that number will be present on the occasion. The object on the part of the President's family seems to have been to render the wedding as private as possible, carefully avoiding everything that would give to it an official character. The only foreign representative will be Sir Edward Thornton, together with Lady Thornton. The guests will include the more intimate friends of the President's family, such as the Justices of the Supreme Court, members of the Cabinet, Speaker Blaine, Senators Conkling, Frelinghuysen and A. G. Thurman, General Sherman, Admiral Porter, George W. Childs, A. J. Drexel, Adolph Borie, together with the ladies of their respective households, and others of various cities. On the morning of the wedding the gates of the Executive Mansion will be closed to all except invited guests. During to-day a large number of splendid and valuable presents to the bride were received. They are principally from Philadelphia. A few of them are from New York.

Convicts and Paupers from Foreign Countries.

The Secretary of State sent to the House today a communication in relation to the landing of convicts and paupers upon our shores from foreign countries. The Secretary suggests the passage of a law empowering the President to return to the countries from whence they came all paupers, vagabonds and convicts who may be landed on the shores of the United States. This should be done by compelling the vessels who bring them to take them away. It is also suggested that a heavy fine be imposed upon vessels engaging in this business. The papers were referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

CINCINNATI.

Horrible Accident—A House Tumbles Down and Buries Five Persons in the Ruins.

Cincinnati, O., May 19.—There is a three story brick house at the corner of Perry street and Central avenue, rented to J. J. Murphy, who used it as a grocery, and lived with his wife and two children and hired girl up stairs. About eleven o'clock to-night, as the wife and children were going to bed, the house tumbled down into a pile of wood, brick and mortar, burying five persons in the ruins. Mr. Murphy, his wife and one child have been extricated alive, not dangerously, though seriously bruised. One child has been taken out dead. The hired girl is buried in the cellar, and workmen are removing the ruins to extricate her. Mr. Whittaker, a man seventy-eight years old, who was passing along the street, was seriously hurt by the falling debris. A cellar had been dug next to the building, but it has been considered unsafe for years. The hired girl is thought not to be seriously hurt, as her voice can be heard.

ANNIVERSARY MEMORIES.

A Happy Gathering Last Night at the Second Presbyterian Church—A $1,000 Gift to Rev. Dr. Howard—An Enjoyable Evening of Speech Making, Festivity and Social Pleasure.

Last night the members of the congregation of the Second Presbyterian church, at the corner of Penn and Irwin streets, celebrated by a happy and enjoyable social re-union the twenty-fifth year of the pastorate of Rev. W. D. Howard, D. D., who for a quarter of a century has successfully and acceptably filled the pulpit of the Second church. The lecture room of the edifice was crowded with as happy a throng of men, women and children as ever was gathered together, and the excellent, eloquent speeches that were made evidently only expressed the heart feelings of those who were present, for they were received with warm and hearty plaudits of approval and satisfaction. Shortly after eight o'clock a meeting was formally organized by calling Mr. Wm. Bakewell to the chair. The platform was occupied by a number of ministers, among them being Rev. F. A. Noble, Rev. Scovel, Dr. Hornblower, Dr. Eels, and Rev. W. J. Holland, including Dr. Howard, every feature of whose face evidenced supreme happiness. Mr. Bakewell took the chair, as requested, when Mr. Benjamin McLean arose from a near corner and addressing himself to Dr. Howard, made a brief speech, referring to the reverend gentleman's long connection with the church, the high esteem in which he is held and the love felt for him by his congregation, concluding by presenting him, on behalf of those present, with a check for one thousand dollars. Mr. McLean was selected to make the presentation speech because he is the oldest member of the church session, and deemed the most appropriate person to do the honor of the occasion. He joined the Second church forty-eight years ago, and was elected an elder of 1833.

In his response it was plain to be seen that Dr. Howard was somewhat at a loss for words to express his feelings, the gift being totally unexpected, but before he concluded Richard was himself again, and in tender, loving, eloquent words he returned his thanks, saying it was not the first time that his congregation had seen proper to testify, in a similar manner, their appreciation of him and his labors. He spoke of the time, twenty-five years ago, when he came over the mountains, and from a large roll of manuscript, delivered his first sermon before the congregation of the Second church. When it was over he accepted an invitation to dine with an elder and learned that the practice of preaching from a "copy book" was neither much in vogue, nor in favor with the people of Pittsburgh, and that sermons delivered without the use of manuscript in the pulpit would be far more acceptable. He, however, expressed his intention, if he could see his way clear, and with the help of God, never to preach without his paper, if he could help it. That determination he had adhered to as closely as possible, and the little piece of paper that he held in his hand (the check) was the best evidence of the appreciation of his congregation, and he begged to assure them that appreciation on his part was not wanting. The Doctor finished his response with a wish that they all might meet in Heaven.

The President, Mr. Bakewell, followed in a few remarks, but owing to the crowd, our reporter was unable to get near enough to catch the drift of them. That they were quite pertinent, however, was learned from the applause of those in front. Mr. Bakewell for twenty-four years was connected with the Second church, but not long since removed to Parnassus, on the A. V. R. R.

Rev. F. A. Noble, of the Third church, was called upon and made a speech that was both humorous and affecting, and the delivery of which was frequently interrupted by gleeful laughter. He said a warm feeling had always existed between the Second and Third churches, and he felt very much at home before Dr. Howard's flock. Turning to the latter he asked the question, "Dr. have you missed any of your young men from Sunday evening services? Because I frequently observe some of them in my church, and no doubt some of the young men of the Third church are here to-night, and neither have they forgotten the girls they left behind them." Referring to the present that had been made Dr. Howard, the speaker said that many ministers ascended their pulpits and preached that money was the root of all evil, and urged the members of their congregation not to spend their time and wear out their bodies and brains in endeavoring to accumulate it. Such congregations then generally arrived at the conclusion that if money was such a terrible thing, and productive of so many evils, they would not bother their pastor with very much of it, and they didn't. Again other ministers preached about the vast amount of good that money could be made to do, of the misery it would relieve, the schools and colleges it would found, assist the poor and do a thousand other things that could not be accomplished without the use of it. The congregation then sometimes decided that if money was such a very good thing they would keep it, but it afforded him much pleasure to see that the Second church did not act on either principle, but kept its minister supplied with funds. Of the thousand dollars donated to Dr. Howard he felt safe in venturing the assertion that before many weeks were gone nine tenths of it would be spent in books, and heavy additions made to his already large library. So that the members of the church would get the money back again through the sermons of their pastor, rich with noble thoughts and grand ideas. Dr. Noble concluded by extending his warmest congratulations to Dr. Howard and the congregation, and wishing both many more years of the warm, loving relationship that a quarter of a century had strengthened and deepened.

Speeches appropriate to the occasion were also made by Dr. Scovell, Dr. Hornblower and Rev. W. J. Holland. The latter gentleman is the new pastor of the Bellefield Presbyterian church. Dr. Eels finished with prayer and the audience was dismissed to spend an hour or two in social intercourse and in disposing of the heavy stock of ice cream, confectionery &c., that had been so liberally and bountifully provided.

PROSPECTUS

OF THE

Pittsburgh Chain and Car Link

MANUFACTURING COMPANY.

This Company starts with a Capital Stock of TWO HUNDRED AND FORTY THOUSAND DOLLARS, over one hundred thousand dollars of which is already taken.

The Company has taken the necessary steps for obtaining a charter, and have bought the property known as the CAR WORKS OF NEW BRIGHTON, PA. This building is 400 feet in length by an average width of about 100 feet, is built of brick, and two stories high, and is in every way adapted to the wants of the business.

The work is already commenced to put it in readiness for the machines.

Competent judges estimate that this Company have made at least forty thousand dollars by buying this property at a forced sale.

When 12 machines are set at work (which is expected to be done within ninety days), the following table will exhibit the profits resulting from these machines, as demonstrated by their working:

Size of Iron....	No. feet made daily......	No. lbs iron cons'd daily..	Cost of iron and manufact'g.	What worth when manufactured.....	Profit per lb....	Net daily profit.	Profit for 300 days........

These machines have been submitted to the most critical test possible, in the presence of nearly every iron worker and manufacturer of Pittsburgh, and without an exception pronounced a success.

The importance of facilitating the manufacture of chain in this country is shown by referring to the imports. I here give the importation of chain for three years—soon after the close of the war, when there was not so great a demand for chain as usual—viz.:

	Pounds.
In 1868 there was imported................	9,145,350
In 1869 there was imported................	10,424 222
In 1870 there was imported................	11,584,013

A GUARANTEE OF TWENTY PER CENT. DAILY PROFIT on the stock or iron consumed is made by the inventor (B. Hershey).

The patents have been thoroughly examined and decided by an expert as well as by the official examiner as being ENTIRELY NEW, NOVEL AND WITHOUT INCUMBRANCE, and being no infringement on any prior existing patents.

A machine for making ship cable will at once be set at work. This branch of chain-making of itself is an immense business. The rivers, the lakes, and the seas, all demand this product in large amounts. Not only property, but LIFE often hangs upon the soundness of a link of chain—no chain is stronger than its weakest links. The process of welding by Hershey's machine is such that the chain may be put to the full test of the iron before it breaks, being nearly one-third more than hand-made chain is competent to stand.

The company have organized and directed that the stock books be kept open for a short time to enable those who desire to subscribe.

B. B. CHAMBERLIN, of New Brighton, and J. W. MORRISON, 10½ Sixth Street, Pittsburgh, are authorized to receive subscriptions.

JOHN IRWIN, President.

JOHN W. MORRISON, Treas.

Any person desiring information concerning the Pittsburgh Chain and Car Link Manufacturing Company, with a view to subscribing for stock of said company, are invited to call on Gen. F. H. LANE, at the St. Clair Hotel, on Sixth street, Pittsburgh, from 8 to 9 o'clock A. M., and 1:30 to 2, and 6 to 7 o'clock P. M., until the balance of said stock is taken. my19-c5

WEDNESDAY, MAY 20, 1874.

BONDS at Frankfort 98½.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 30f.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 112½.

CONGRESS will probably adjourn June 22d.

BAXTER declares his purpose to have Brooks tried for treason, and, if found guilty, executed.

ARKANSAS affairs will not be investigated at this session of Congress, as, indeed, they cannot well be, in view of the early adjournment desired.

CARL SCHURZ has determined to make a canvass for re-election to the Senate. He proposes to test before the people the popularity or unpopularity of the course he has chosen—that of independence of all parties, and of the free-lance kind of representation. That is, he is a law to himself on all questions that come before the Senate. Such a canvass will be interesting.

THERE are two hundred and one members of the House of Representatives to be elected this year, and Senators are to be chosen in the 2d, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 14th, 15th, 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st, 23d, 25th, 26th, 28th, 29th, 32d, 33d, 34th, 36th, 37th, 39th, 41st, 42d, 44th, 45th, 46th and 48th districts for two years. Of the retiring Senators, Harry White, of Indiana, is said to have Congressional aspirations.

WE ARE authoritatively permitted to announce the declinature of Hon. Judge John Patton, of Clearfield, for the Republican candidature for the Lieutenant Governorship. His endorsement by the press and legal fraternity of the whole State, especially the Northwestern portion of it, was not only flattering, but something exceptional. He appears to have many friends and few or no enemies.

THE Sanborn Investigating Committee think they begin to see just where Butler comes in. Prescott, Sanborn's lawyer, occupies offices in Boston in company with Butler, and it is presumed, is a partner, or at least an intimate with the latter. Such is the scent; but unfortunately, they cannot compel Prescott to tell just where the money he received went. Suspicion points to Butler, but he cannot be placed as yet.

THE case of James Watson Webb, as it now stands, is a disgrace to a once-honored name, and to the foreign service of the country. The facts, as stated in Congress, are, that he forced from Brazil about $75,000, of which he paid to the State Department $25,000. Now Congress appropriates $57,500 to pay to Brazil principal and interest. How is it that this was not looked up by the State Department before this?

"ONE IRWIN," who has been charged by Sage, President of the Pacific Mail Company, with squandering the funds of the company, to the extent of $600,000, makes reply, through the New York Tribune, in a statement, the crushing force of which cannot well be overestimated. He denies every allegation made, and challenges proof. Incidentally, the expenditure of the money is admitted, but, he claims, with the specific knowledge and direction of the company.

WE have a note from General Cass, President of the Northern Pacific Railroad, stating that the information that came to us through telegraphic reports that there was a swarm of lobbyists in Washington in the interest of the endorsement of the Company's bonds is not correct. We are glad to have this statement. The enterprise has, we are well persuaded, too much solid merit of its own to be favorably affected by lobby influences. General Cass very properly announces that the road will honestly and truthfully succeed or not at all. We say, that on this basis, it is quite certain to succeed.

THE Cincinnati Commercial will not, we are confident, be charged with overweening love for Grant, or desire to promote any third-term proclivities he may possibly have. Yet it has this to say of Watterson's hallucinations: "But should he become President a third time, it will be by the consent of the American people, in accordance with the forms of the Constitution, and without any surrender of sovereignty on the part of those who would hurl from the Executive chair and grind to fine dust any man who should presume to hold the Presidential office one hour beyond the time to which he is entitled to exercise its prerogatives."

PARSON BROWNLOW will be famed, so long as he is remembered, as the friend of the North during the war, and as a man of rugged force, and radical independence. He claims to have befriended the colored race when he was Governor of Tennessee, but now violently denounces the Civil Rights bill, because it embodies a clause in favor of the co-education of the races. This is a sorry plea, as is the one that if the bill succeeds, the public school system of Tennessee will fall to the ground. If this is true, that system sadly needs just the kind of reorganization that the Civil Rights bill will give it. The Parson is in the wrong this time.

THE Post has a way of its own. It takes the assessments, puts a fancy millage of its own on, and then computes results. Of course, this is reliable and praiseworthy. In the meantime we have, additional to what has been previously furnished, the borough and township comparisons, representing forty-four of these boroughs and townships. Last year, they aggregated $112,378.82; this year, $115,075.26,—being $2,696.44 more this year than last. This is in the county where the Post was steadily representing that an increase many times more than last year would be made. As is well known, even these figures will yet be reduced, as the result of appeals,—so that the net taxes will very probably be less than last year. So another falsehood is nailed.

WE URGE upon the various nominating Conventions the duty and necessity of placing none but the best and purest candidates to be had on the ticket. Especially is this suggestion applicable at this time to the Legislative Conventions, as brains and integrity are wanted at Harrisburg, in shaping the general legislation made necessary under the provisions of the new Constitution. Party ties are slackened, and the people more than ever before demand the best material attainable for filling the various offices. The fact stares one in the face daily, and it might as well be admitted now, as hereafter when it is too late, that actual merit rather than party services will win in the coming election. Already there are whispers of a coalition between the various minority organizations in the county, which may result in what is popularly known as a "citizens' ticket," unless great care is taken by those charged with making up the ticket for the majority party. Too much care cannot be taken in its formation, and without any suggestions as to whom the Conventions should select, in the name of the good old party, and as we believe for the good of the whole people, we reiterate our earnest hope that a strong, good ticket may be given us.

COUNT VON ARNIM.

The diplomatic intrigues that are ever in progress, in Europe, are not in themselves either fascinating or instructive, to the people of this country, and yet, at times, a case crops out, which has in it so much of suggestion, as regards other and great events of history, that it is worthy of special attention. Diplomacy, with the Governments of Europe, ranks as some sort of science. A person is educated with a view to it, and if he develops special aptness, he is kept employed, in honorable and lucrative stations, during his active life. Count Harry Von Arnim ranked very high among the embassadorial corps of Germany, and is described as a person of French cast of mind, of great suavity of manner, and of remarkable astuteness and independence of intellect. He was at Rome during the Ecumenical Council, and is credited with more sagacity than any other Embassador there, in ascertaining the secrets of the Council. He even proposed to his Government what would have proven a brilliant stroke of policy, and saved much trouble, had it been adopted. It seems that the German, French and American Bishops, as a rule, were opposed to the dogma of infallibility, while the Italian and other Bishops favored it. The moral power of the Pope's government was with the Italians. To give moral weight to the opposers, Von Arnim proposed to his government that an agent be appointed to represent the State, who should be privileged to attend all sessions of the Council, and that all the States of Europe appoint agents, and demand for them the right to witness the Councils. It is now thought that had this suggestion been given effect, infallibility would not have been voted. Bismarck was indifferent to the suggestion, and thus it fell.

It has been thought that the Chancellor, Bismarck, was not particularly pleased to witness the talent and shrewdness of his ambassador. He was thus transferred to Paris, as a peculiarly trying and dangerous point. Here his royalism overcame his prudence. He intrigued for the downfall of Thiers, and favored the elevation of MacMahon as a step toward the establishment of a monarchy. This was an offense to Bismarck, and the plan was devised to transfer him to Constantinople. The cause of the offense is reported to be, not so much the technical violation of duty in forming the political intrigues of Paris, as that he favored Ultramontanism in the Government. It is difficult to determine how this can be correct, as his Roman policy was against that body. He probably cared most for Royalty, and in intriguing, did not value as correctly as he should, the new controversy in Germany, and the intense dislike felt toward the Ultramontanes. To elevate Chambord is to benefit those against whom Bismarck is in deadly struggle. Still, it remains true, that the secret of Thiers' overthrow was less his legislative contests, in themselves considered, than in the intrigues woven around him by the German Ambassador. Thus do foreign Governments control and regulate the policy of each other.

Von Arnim's offense that led to his being retired from the service, was the reputed publication of two dispatches in the Vienna Presse. He denies that he was responsible, but this was evidently not credited. He had received his transfer to Constantinople as an insult, and bad blood was doubtless at the root of the difficulty. So weaves the tangled web of diplomacy.

WORK OF THE LEGISLATURE.

The session of the Legislature, just closed, illustrated, in several particulars, the strength and weakness of the new Constitution. The spirit of the olden time was more or less prevalent, yet but about one-fourth the number of bills were introduced as in former sessions, and but a proportionate number of those introduced were passed. It was pretty clearly shown that the requirement for general laws did not prevent what was practically special legislation, but it did lop off those personal schemes which formerly were the most offensive development of special legislation. Yet there were many schemes that passed, notwithstanding. For example, the cities of the State were divided into classes. Of the first class there is but a single city,—Philadelphia. Pittsburgh comes in as the second class city of the State. There are several third cities,—but these received comparatively little attention. Hence, legislation that applied to cities of the first and second class, was really so much special legislation for Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

In the former city the Board of Revision was authorized to appoint additional assessors; the city authorities were authorized to reorganize any of the departments of the city; a special loan of some six millions was legalized. In fact, all the legislation desired was reached in this manner. So of Pittsburgh. The bill increasing the power of the Mayor, regulating the administration of the city, and other matters, was distinctly arranged with a view to the particular city involved. We are decidedly of the opinion that some of the legislation of the past Winter will be repealed at the next session of the Legislature; and some bills—as the judicial salary bill, which righteously failed,—will be passed in a more liberal form next Winter. Thus a loophole has been found in the new Constitution as regards special legislation, and great firmness must be shown next Winter, if this evil does not develop itself in great force.

But the tide of evil legislation was very completely checked by the regulation requiring bills to be fully read, and printed and laid on the members' desks. Also, requiring every amendment or change to be printed, even those made in committees of conference. Thus the passage of bills by their titles, and in total ignorance of their actual contents or merits, is prevented. This has been a decided check to vicious legislation, and cannot fail to work well in the future. It is this, more than else, that has prevented wrong legislation,—and thus is to be credited with the negative benefits of the session just closed.

The next session of the Legislature will be charged with high important duties. It must, of necessity, complete the work of the recent Legislature, by giving full effect to the new Constitution. We are desirous that the candidates selected to represent this city and county shall be able men, capable of grasping the spirit and purpose of our fundamental law, and ready to give it effect by wise, conservative legislation. We mean no reflection on the delegation in the Legislature just closed; but it must be evident that there will be a larger responsibility devolved on the body to be chosen this Fall, in that it will be elected under the new Constitution, and expected to properly develop that instrument by wise legislation. All else aside, it is in itself clear, that a city like Pittsburgh, and a county like Allegheny deserve the very best representatives in the Legislature it is possible to obtain. We commend this statement to those who influence or seek nominations, whether in this city, county, or throughout the entire State.

POLITICAL NOTES.

HANNIBAL HAMLIN has been in public office without cessation for 38 years, and they begin to think in Maine that he has had his share and ought to give some one else a chance.

THE new Constitution of Ohio, which is to be submitted to a vote of the people on the 18th of August, makes a three-fifths vote necessary in the Legislature to carry a measure over the Governor's veto.

THE first choice of the Pottsville Miners' Journal for the next Republican candidate for the Presidency is Elihu B. Washburne, of Illinois, present Minister to France, and the second is Oliver P. Morton, of Indiana.

THE Everett Press flies the following ticket at the head of its editorial columns; For Lieutenant Governor, General Jacob M. Campbell, of Johnstown; for Secretary of International Affairs, Gen. Robert B. Beath, of Bellefonte; for Judge of the Supreme Court, Hon. Wm. M. Hall, of Bedford—all subject to the decision of the Republican State Convention.

THE assaults upon Senator Brownlow in the recent Colored Men's Convention in Tennessee have brought out from that mentally vigorous old gentleman a sharp and keen letter, in which he denounces the "abominable programme" there put forth in favor of the co-education of the races, and declares that the 25,000 white Republicans of East Tennessee have resolved to get along without the colored voters sooner than submit to "this sum of villainies and quintessence of abominations."

THE Blair county Republican Committee elected S. McCamant and D. O. Alexander Representative delegates to the State Convention, and Colonel D. M. Jones, of Hollidaysburg, Senatorial delegate, with power to select his own conferees. The 17th of August was fixed as the day for holding the County Convention, and the 15th for the delegate election. A resolution was adopted instructing the delegates to the State Convention to support B. L. Hewit, Esq., for Secretary of Internal Affairs, and Hon. S. S. Blair for Judge of the Supreme Court.

CERTAINLY, if unwavering fidelity and enthusiastic service at all times and under all discouragements can give claims to office, Mr. Eaton, recently nominated by the Democrats of Connecticut as their candidate for United States Senator, has deserved his reward. For many years, he has been the most conspicuous Democratic politician in the State, noisy, arrogant, denunciatory of Republicans and Republicanism, during the war defiantly opposing every war measure, threatening te obstruct with his body the passage of Massachusetts troops through his State, ostentatiously rejoicing in national disasters and mourning over rebel defeats; since the war, a bitter adversary of all constitutional safeguards for the freedmen, asserting to the last his determination that white men only should vote in Connecticut. Undoubtedly, he is the best possible representative of Connecticut Democracy, but his election will be less likely than that of some other man to entice recruits into the Democratic ranks.—Worcester Spy.

OCTAVE FEUILLET has trained his lapdog to keep his place for him in any book he may be reading by holding his paws between the leaves. This is obviously a better way of marking where you paws than the ordinary plan of doing it with a dog's ear.

ACCORDING to a correspondent of the Chicago Inter-Ocean, George Fruits, of Alamo, Ind., is 111 years old, has voted 125 times and has 100 grand and great grand children. He has certainly obeyed the Scriptural injunction "Bring forth, therefore, fruits, meats for repentance," &c.

DURING the war a Mr. Pallum, of Monroe, Michigan, was confined and beaten in Libby Prison by a rebel officer named Cady. He has ever since nursed the insult, and last week, meeting Cady in Monroe, he settled the little difference by pummelling him grandly. Pallum's friends paid the $25 fine imposed.

MARSHAL MACMAHON has presented a fine vase of Sevres porcelain to the King of Holland as a recognition of the twenty-fifth anniversary of that sovereign's accession to his throne. The Marshal is having two like vases made—one for the King of Portugal and the other, it is rumored, for the Duke of Edinburgh.

AT a lecture on "Pharaoh's Land," given by Mrs. Benton in Boston, that lady described the Egyptian women by saying that many of them would come to the fountain for water bearing a water-jar on the head, a babe on one shoulder, clinging to its mother's neck as best it could, while upon the other shoulder the mother carried a basket, which she steadied by one hand. And what do the men do would be a natural inquiry. "O," said the lecturer, "they sit and smoke and 'laze' about."

MICHIGAN papers are boasting of a girl in that State who has a grandfather and a grandmother, two great-grandfathers and a great-grandmother on her mother's side, and both grandparents, a great-grandfather and great-grandmother and a great-great-grandmother on her mother's side.

THE Rochester Union reports that Mrs. Frederica Burger, of that city, died on Friday of trichina, and that six members of her family are sick with the disease, one of them—a son, nineteen years old—dangerously. It is supposed to have arisen from some uncooked sausage that they all ate.

THE town of North Bridgewater, Mass., is preatly rejoiced at its change of name, and hereafter is to be called Brockton. The first child born in the town under the new name was to receive a present of $100, and one came into the world the very next day after the matter was settled to claim the money.

COMPLAINT was made before a church in Parkersburg, W. Va., recently, that one of the members sold milk on Sundays. Investigation accidentally revealed the fact that the minister and one of the deacons were among his regular customers, and the matter was dropped, as savoring too much of intolerance and illiberality.

THERE is an "Old Probabilities" in France who is a perfect walking barometer. His name is Charles Sainte Claire Deville, and he has been a constant compiler of meteorological records for twenty years. His theory of prognostication, says Nature, is based upon his discovery of a large monthly thermometrical oscillation, which he calls "dodecuple" from the Greek word meaning twelve.

THE Brooklyn ice dealers have established the following rates: For ten pounds per day, $1 per week; for fifteen pounds per day, $1.25 per week; for thirty pounds per day, $1 per hundred; to butchers, &c., 60 cents per hundred; to small cash trade, 70 cents per hundred; to "independents," $8 per ton; to pork packers, &c., $8.50 per ton. This is nearly 50 per cent. more than was charged last year.

CHARLES J. NOURS, Chairman of the Pig Iron Committee of the American Iron and Steel Association, has called a meeting of all pig iron manufacturers, for Thursday, the 28th inst., in Philadelphia, to consider the continued depression in the iron trade. It is expected the meeting will urge action by Congress on the financial question and on the proposition to restore the 10 per cent. duty taken off by the act of 1872.

IN addition to the $50,000 which the Jubilee Singers have raised in Great Britain, $2,000 have been contributed there to furnish dormitories for forty students, and over $1,000 for a library. Mr. Gladstone, Dean Stanley, Mr. Spurgeon, and others have made presents of books. The Quakers have subscribed $1,100 for a set of philosophical instruments, while the town of Hull has presented a portrait of Wilberforce to be placed in Nashville University.

A PROPOSITION has lately been made to establish in Milan, Italy, a home for the many young lady students of music who flock to that city on lyric thoughts intent. With this home will be connected a well-appointed musical conservatory. The British and American vice consuls at Milan are in the advisory committee. Mr. Marsh, the American Minister to Italy, has signed a circular appealing to music lovers generally to subscribe to the preliminary expenses.

THERE is a bush story of a negro who for a bottle of rum, agreed to strip to the waist and lie on his face, to be bitten for a quarter of an hour by mosquitoes, at the Joggins of New Brunswick. He endured his pests manfully, and had nearly won his prize, when one of the lumbermen who stood by laid on him a piece of live charcoal, when the negro wriggled and twisted about frightfully; at last, unable to hold out any longer, he jumped, calling out, "Wooh! not bargain for dat; dat is dragon fly!"

A FATAL affray occurred at Cherry Creek, Pontoloca county, Miss., last Thursday. The parties engaged were Wm. Garner, Tim McCoy, Samuel Reeder, Wm. McCoy, Sr., Lark Millam and George McCoy. Fire arms were freely used, and William Garner was shot dead. Lark Millam was shot three times, each wound, however, proving to be slight. William McCoy, Sr., had his arm broken, and Tim McCoy was slightly bruised. All the combatants had, before this terrible affair, been friendly toward each other; in fact they were all related. No other cause is assigned for this unfortunate and deadly collision than that the parties were at the time under the influence of ardent spirits.

MOST housekeepers have some time realized the difficulty of lighting the fire in a still, damp morning, when the chimney will not draw and vigorous blowing proves ineffectual. Science explains the trouble as "caused by the difficulty encountered in overcoming the inertia of the long column of air in the pipe or chimney by the small column of air that can be forced up through the interstices of wood and coal, at the bottom of which the fire is kindled." This may be remedied by first lighting a few bits of shavings or paper placed upon the top; thus, by the heated air forcing itself into the chimney and establishing there an upward current, the room is kept free from the gas or smoke which is so apt to fill the room, and the fire can then be lighted from below with good success.

THE abuses of alms-giving is a subject that certainly demands the earnest consideration of all thoughtful people. We are forced to refuse to give street beggars a dozen times often in our daily walk, unless with momentary impulse, we think it easier to scatter a few pennies; for not unfrequently, if you do not give, the beggars utter low and deep abuse, which is most unpleasant. In fact, street begging is becoming a great nuisance. The children should be in school, the sick in hospitals, and the well allowed to earn their own bread. Pauperism needs to be discouraged as well as indiscrimate charity. Hundreds who beg for bread and money spend the money for rum and tobacco; and little child-beggars often buy candies and cakes, instead of substantial food. There is a reform very much needed in this direction.

Typographical Errors in Morning Papers.

You think that there are a great many typographical errors. So do we. If it contents you better, we will say that we know it. We will have no quarrel on that point. But you may think that the Billsticker is an exception to the general character of the newspaper press for accuracy. Here we differ from you, and here we are right and you are wrong. Accuracy in almost anything requires time. It is quite easy to print a book free from typographical errors; it is not difficult to make a magazine or even a weekly paper free from them. It is practically impossible in the case of a daily newspaper, where the press impatiently waits for the telegraph, and where, every morning, matter is left over, because it cannot be set in time to save the early mails. In such cases careful proof-reading is out of the question. We are frequently obliged to hurry a paragraph into the form, without time to even read the proof. We do not correct afterwards the errors that constantly and necessarily occur. Most of them are apparent, and the reader naturally makes the correction as he goes on; and the most of them are unimportant. Some of them deform the sense and some are very ridiculous. And such as they be, there they are, and they will continue to be, in this paper and every other that attempts to give the news with promptness. We can give yesterday's news with great accuracy, and can save a good deal by leaving out the part that is contradicted the next day. But the man who expects the home news up to daybreak, and the news from all the rest of the world up to midnight, must take it with a liberal allowance of typographical errors.

A Curious "Ad."

The following curious advertisement is clipped from the Hartford Courant, dated September 9, 1776:

WHEREAS, ABIGAIL BUTLER, THE wife of me the subscriber, eloped from my bed and board, the 20th of August, 1776, in a private manner, and contrary to my knowledge and order, and took with her a mare and a colt £26 value, and about 40s. in money and other household furniture, to the value of about £40 in the whole. Said Abigail hath plaid me off several tricks of the same nature, for years past, and when spent comes for more, till she hath, by often been intoxicated with spirits, and a masculine temper, wasted hundreds of pounds of my estate. I do therefore humbly request and forbid any person or persons whatever of receiving said mare, or colt, or other goods, at her hand, or anybody authorized by her, or having any dealings with her; and all persons are forbid trusting her on my account, as I determine not to pay any debts of her contracting after this date.

A Novel Railway Suit for Five Hundred Thousand Dollars.

In 1866 a sleepy traveller on the East Tennessee and Georgia Railroad was carried by his point of debarkation, owing to the station not being called. He was a member of the Legislature and introduced a bill, where it is provided that conductors of passenger trains shall call out at each station, in a loud voice, its name and the length of time the train is to stop. For each failure to do so the road must pay a penalty of one hundred dollars. His declarations are printed and consist of two thousand five hundred counts, the aggregate of penalty amounting to two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. This is the amount claimed for failure to call the names of the stations and two hundred and fifty thousand more is claimed for the failure to call the stopping time, making in all half a million dollars. The law is distinct, and it is not easy to see how the road can escape the penalty. The law provides that half of the penalty shall go to the complainant.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, May 23, 1874.

The beautiful day of yesterday developed much activity in the street, and created the appearance of an active business day, but inquiry revealed the fact that there is but little profitable business being done in any line of manufacture. There is an improved demand for money at several of the banks, but precisely what it indicates it is hard to tell. There is a movement in real estate which will partially account for this, but not entirely. Some of our banks, however, make the stereotyped report,—"plenty of funds, and but little demand."

The New York stock market continues in a depressed condition. It is difficult to find any other reason for this than the lack of confidence growing out of the unsettled condition of affairs.

At Philadelphia, the Ledger says: The money market rules unusually easy, and we continue to quote call loans in round sums steady at 4@5 per cent., strictly first-class two-name paper at 6 per cent., and strictly first-class single-paper at 6½@7 per cent.

In New York, although money on call loans during last week was exceptionally quoted at 1 and 2 per cent., the prevailing rates have been on the basis of 3 and 4 per cent., with more capital offering than could find use. Plethoric banks are a very sure sign of business stagnation. The discount market was easier and prime commercial paper passed at 5@6½ per cent.

The general trade of New York has improved somewhat in activity, more especially in cotton, breadstuffs and provisions, while the dry goods trade has been extremely dull. Prices are generally a shade lower for all staples, except cotton, which shows an improvement in quotations, with a decline in receipts and exports.

As regards the foreign market, while there are no important changes to be noted in connection with the value of American securities abroad, there is a condition of affairs on the other side of the Atlantic which in a measure explains the recent shipment of gold from this country and accounts for the rise in the Bank of England rates of discount to 4 per cent. France is preparing the way for a return to specie payments. The strain of these payments is naturally thrown upon the Bank of England, not in fullest measure, it is true, but indirectly. The gain of bullion by France since the 1st of January, 1874, has been more than £12,300,000—an income of $61,000,000 gold within three months, and as this vast amount is being hoarded for a specific purpose, it follows that being withdrawn from the field of foreign exchanges in which the precious metals may be required, England was compelled to resort to the usual policy of self protection that attends a drain upon the exchequer. It is said, however, that this large sum has been gently and carefully taken, and not in a manner to annoy the market, and that the Bank of France cannot afford to enlarge its draft to such a degree as to raise the value of money very high, because perturbation or tightness of the money market would materially aggravate the difficulties of a return to specie payments. A further advance of the English Bank rate is therefore not expected in the near future, trade being dull and the export of gold to Germany being suspended. The latter was the disturbing cause last year. A large sum is also now due to England on American account.

A meeting of the holders of the consolidated bonds of the Oil Creek and Allegheny River Railroad was held in Philadelphia on Thursday, at which the holders of about $300,000 of the bonds were represented. A committee was appointed, of which Mr. J. J. Woodward is chairman, to obtain whatever information is attainable as to how the company stands, a copy of the mortgage, etc., with instructions to report at a future meeting to be held June 1st, or sooner, of which meeting due notice is to be given.

NEW YORK, May 19, 1874.

Money 3@4. Sterling was quiet at 487¼@488 for sixty days and 490 and 491 for sight. The customs receipts were $427,006. The produce exports for the week amounted to $6,604,654, an increase over last week of $2,150,287. Gold opened and closed at 112⅝, with sales during the day at 112@112¾. The carrying rates were 2@3. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $63,000. The clearings were $23,000,000. The exports to-day were $150,000. The specie engagements for to-morrow are estimated at $550,000. Governments are steady. State bonds are quiet. Stocks opened steady, but soon became weak, and leading shares declined ¼ to 1¼. Later there was a firmer feeling, and prices recovered ¼ to 1¼, which was followed by another decline. In the closing dealings there was a sudden and marked improvement on large purchases by parties previously operating on the bear side, talk of a dividend on Western Union in the early future, a report that the House is likely to amend the Senate finance bill so as to be acceptable to the President, and news that Congress is likely to adjourn in the latter part of June. In the advance Western Union was the most prominent, followed by Lake Shore, New York Central, Rock Island, Union Pacific and Pacific Mail. The latter rose to 42⅜ on Washington news about the subsidy. The closing prices were the highest of the day. The stock sales for the day aggregated 173,000 shares, of which 59,000 were Western Union, 24,000 Pacific Mail, 13,000 New York Central, 6,000 Wabash, 23,000 Lake Shore, 18,000 Union Pacific, 5,000 Rock Island, 9,000 Northwest, and 5,500 St. Paul.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, May 19, 1874.

Trade in general merchandise continues moderately active, and while it is not by any means all that could be desired, it is nevertheless, about all that can reasonably be expected. The inquiry for all of the leading staples is confined entirely to supplying immediate wants, but there is a fair business in the aggregate, while as regards values there have been no recent important fluctuations, to which reference has not already been made.

APPLES—We can report sales of green at $6@7⅜ ⅌ brl, as to quality and condition.

BEANS—There is a fair demand, and we can report sales of good to choice navies at $2.25@2.35 ⅌ bushel.

BUTTER—Was in light supply to day, and with considerable inquiry prices were better, ranging from 25 to 28 for prime to choice. Dealers, however, have no faith in the immediate future of the market, and the above named quotations may not be realized in twenty four hours.

CHEESE—There is a fair local trade, but no change to note in rates: new Ohio Dairy, 11@12, new Ohio Factory, 15@16; prime old New York, 18⅜@19—the supply of the latter will soon be exhausted.

CRANBERRIES—$18@20 ⅌ brl.

COUNTRY MEAT—There is considerable inquiry for Clear Sides, with sales at 9@9⅜ cents. Country Lard, 8@9.

DRIED FRUIT—Apples in light supply and wanted; quotable at 10@12 cts; sliced, 14@15 cts. Peaches continue quiet and unchanged: 10@12 for quarters and mixed; 14@15 for halves and 18@20 for peeled.

EGGS—There was an increased demand, and, in consequence, a firmer market to day, but prices remain as last quoted, 13@14—very few sales under 14.

FLOUR—Spring wheat flours are lower: we reduce our quotations to $7@7.25, the outside figure for choice Minnesotas; red winters, $7.75@8; white wheat, $9@10. Rye Flour, $5.75@6.

GROCERIES—There is a continued fair demand for the leading staples, hence notwithstanding the inquiry is mainly for small lots there is a very fair business in the aggregate; in a general way, however, the market is devoid of anything particularly important. Coffees continues rather offish, while refined Sugars are reported in light stock and steady at quotations. The supply of Lake Herring is completely exhausted, and White Fish are also in light stock and held firmly at full rates.

COFFEE—Choice Rio, 28; prime, 27; good, 26 fair, 25c. Roasted, 29c for 1 pound packages; loose, ⅜c less.

MOLASSES—Strictly prime new crop New Orleans, 90c; good to prime, 80@85.

RICE—Choice Carolina, 9¾; Patna, 8⅜c; Rangoon, 8@8⅜c.

SYRUPS—Extra White Drips, 70c; Sugar Drips, 65c; Amber, 60@65; lower grades, 50@55, as to quality.

SUGARS—Patent Cut Loaf, 12⅜; Crushed, Powdered and Granulated, 11⅜c; Standard A, 10; B, 9⅜; Ex. C, 9⅜; Circle C, 9⅜; Franklin Extra C, 9⅜; Franklin No. 2 Extra C, 9⅜; American Extra C, 9; Yellow Sugars, 8 to 9c, as to quality.

GRAIN—The arrivals and offerings of Wheat appear to be on the increase, in addition to which the mills are getting in considerable of their own, hence the market is offish, although prices are not quotably lower; we continue to quote at $1.55@1.60 for red, and $1.65@1.70 for white. The Oat market is steady, with sales at 6@65, as to quality, and some dealers quote choice up to 63. Ear Corn is in light supply, but there is not much call for it: 83@85, for mixed to prime yellow. Shelled Corn is reported in better supply and easier, but not quotably lower; 81@83 on track, and 83@85, free in elevator, as to quality. Rye is quiet and unchanged at $1.05. No movement in Barley.

HAY—The supply of baled is light, scarcely equal to the demand, hence prices are fully sustained; we continue to quote at $25@28, as to quality and condition. Loose is selling from country wagons, at $30@38.

HOMINY—Is quiet and unchanged: $5 ⅌ brl to the trade and $5½ in a jobbing way.

MAPLE SYRUP—Is about out of season and the supply is almost exhausted: small sales at $1.25@1.35 for gallon jugs. Maple Sugar, 10@12 for granulated and 13@14 for cakes.

POTATOES—In light supply, but the demand has fallen off considerably and prices are unchanged: sales, in a jobbing way, at $1.50@1.70 ⅌ bushel, according to quality.

PROVISIONS—Hams—Extra Sugar Cured, 13⅜; canvassed, 13⅜; Shoulders—Extra Sugar Cured, 9⅜; canvassed, 9⅜; Breakfast Bacon—Sugar Cured, 12; canvassed, 12⅜; Dried Beef—Extra Sugar Cured, 6⅜; canvassed, 17. Beef Tongues—Sugar Cured $7.50 ⅌ dozen; Bacon—Shoulders, 8⅜ ⅌ lb; Rib Sides, 10⅜; Short Rib Sides, 11; Clear Rib Sides, 11⅜. Mess Pork, ⅌ brl, $19.00; Lard—Prime Leaf, in tierces, 11⅜ ⅌ lb. Refined summer use in tierces, 12c; half brls, 12⅜; buckets, 13; in 3 lb caddies, 13⅜; in 5 lb do, 13½; in 3 lb pails, 14⅜; in 5 lb do, in 6 lb do 14. Ham Sausage, 10.

POULTRY—Live Chickens, 75@85 cts.

SEEDS—Clover Seed is still quotable at $6.50@6.75, and Timothy at $3@3.25. Flax seed is scarce and in demand at $2.25.

RAGS—The market is quiet and unchanged. Good mixed, 3 cts ⅌ lb.

TALLOW—Is reported very dull, and prices are weak and drooping; we reduce our quotations to 6@6⅜ cts.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, May 19, 1874.

The Crude market was decidedly firmer today, and late in the day holders were asking an advance of 15 to 20c ⅌ brl: reliable dispatches from Parker quoted at from $1.40@1.50 ⅌ barrel, according to pipe line, whereas yesterday immediate shipment was offered at $1.20, and early to day there was a sale of 1,000 brls at $1.25. This advance was generally unexpected, as many supposed that the dissolving of the 'shutting down' project would have produced an entirely different effect. There is no improvement in Refined, however: prices were no better than they were yesterday, and furthermore, there was, so far as we could learn, little or no inquiry: 13@13⅜ were the nominal quotations for May, delivered in Philadelphia. The position of the market is very unsatisfactory, so far as refiners are concerned, as the quotations above named will not, we are assured, begin to cover actual cost, and unless there is a radical change one way or the other, refiners will be obliged to shut down before long.

The Barrel market continues dull, and prices are nominal at $1.60 for countries and $1.65 for city make.

New York Breadstuffs Market—Weekly Review

NEW YORK, May 18—This day week we left our Flour market fairly active and easier; the business largely confined to shipping extras and fancy brands of Minnesota, and since then they have continued to attract the most attention—though the lower prices accepted for them has induced a far more general demand: this applies more especially to shipping brands and low Grade. It is admitted by dealers generally that, at the current rates for Shipping Extras, they are relatively cheap and it is well known they are selling much below the cost of production, and are regarded as a safe investment. Winter Wheat brands have continued depressed, and the trade in them has been of a forced and unsatisfactory character, notwithstanding they are admitted to be cheap by almost all dealers, but this has failed to stimulate the local demand and the stock is increasing and the business is very unsatisfactory. Millers, we trust, realize fully the situation and will act accordingly. In City Ground we have had more activity, chiefly in common brands, but at lower and unsatisfactory prices. The demand for the West Indies has continued limited, and brands suited to that trade are quite heavy. In No 2 Superfine a limited business has been done. The lower prices at which they are offered has failed to stimulate the inquiry and the market closes dull and very flat. In fancy brands of Minnesota a good business has been done at about former figures; they sell when all other descriptions seem to be neglected. New Patent Process has sold more freely and the assortment is larger and more desirable. We have had a moderate demand for shipping brands for the future, but dealers generally have been apart in their views and nothing of moment has been done. At the close shipping brands were steady and fairly active. No 2 and Superfine dull and heavy. Winter Wheat brands very quiet and irregular; and Minnesota brands steady and salable. The exports of the week have been 3,247 bls against 24,956 do the corresponding week last year. The sales of the week have been 75,300 brls.

The features of our Wheat market the past week have been of a variable character, the advices from Great Britain have not been as favorable as many anticipated: the favorable weather there for the growing crops has exerted a depressing influence, checking inclination to purchase for investment, as with good crops they feel assured that the visible supplies in Europe and America, added to those in transitu, will be found sufficient to meet their wants, assuming that farmers here and in Europe hold more than enough to meet the wants of the home trade: but it is very clear that future prices depend largely upon the weather the ensuing three months. It is well known that farmers in Great Britain hold no stocks of moment, and the same is true of France; hence the importance of securing good crops the present season is very great. Unusual interest is manifested by them in the crops of this country, as upon us they must largely depend for supplies in the event of a failure at home. During the past two years more than half their deficiency has been made good by this country. Since Jan. 1 fully three-quarters of their imports have been from America. Our advices from California since our last have been very favorable. In their Wheat crop the prospects are highly encouraging: they estimate their crop at forty million bushels, and of better quality than last year; they estimate it will require 650 large vessels to take away their surplus. From Oregon we have favorable reports, but the crop there is not so far advanced as in California; the prospects are, however, quite as good. At the North West all the Spring Wheat is in the ground, and the only drawback they have had thus far is a want of rain, but this will doubtless come in due time. Farmers are now busy getting in their oats and corn, and a large increase in the area under all kinds of Grain is reported. We notice an increase in the Wheat movement for the lake ports, the weather being extremely favorable; with timely rains it is believed that farmers will sell out very closely, as present prices are very tempting. From Canada we have very unfavorable reports of their Winter Wheat; the crop has been very generally killed: the absence of snow during the Winter has been the chief cause, and great exertion will be used to get in a large area of Spring Wheat: but their seasons are so short that a large return for their labor cannot be relied upon, and beside they regard the Barley crop as a more safe and profitable one: quite a large business has been done in Spring Wheat for the future, and at liberal prices, and with the bulk of the Wheat arriving and our stocks in store almost exhausted, prices have been better sustained than many have anticipated. The arrivals of No. 2 Spring have not been as large as some expected, and some difficulty has been experienced in filling contracts maturing the first half of this month. A better supply of tonnage and some decline in the rates of freight have been favorable to holders. We have had a fair demand for both Winter and Spring Wheat for the Continent, and with a moderate supply on the Canal the prospects now are that prices will average higher during the month than the most sanguine had anticipated. The exports of the week are 73,775. The quantity of wheat now in sight is about 11,120,000 bushels against 6,920,000 bushels the corresponding week last year.—Tribune.

The stage of water was about stationary yesterday, with four feet five inches in channel. Weather continues clear and pleasant, all that could possibly be desired for out door business. Freights are not offering very freely, and boats are experiencing considerable difficulty in picking up a trip.

There have been no arrivals since the date of our last report: the Juniata from Cincinnati, and Esperanza from St. Louis are among the first boats due.

The Carrie Brooks for Zanesville, and Exchange for Cincinnati departed

The R. W. Skillinger, Capt. J. T Russell, is announced to take her departure for Cincinnati to-day. Being of light draft, the Skillinger can go through on present water with no difficulty.

The John Gilmore, with nine empty barges, and the Barnard, with a tow of empty oil barrels, passed Wheeling on Monday en route for this port. The John Dippold, with two empty barges, and the Reindeer, with a tow of empty barges and one barge of oil barrels, also passed the same point on Monday, coming up. All these boats are due here to-day

Oil City dispatches reported 14 inches in the Allegheny at that point yesterday, and there was five feet reported in the Allegheny the same day.

Com. W. J. Kountz has gone West again to look after his steamboat interests.

Capt. John S. McMillan, who was absent for some time on business connected with his steam capstan patent, has returned home again.

The Nail City was to have left St. Louis yesterday for Wheeling, with one thousand tons of iron ore. This will, it is said, probably be the last Iron Mountain ore brought to Wheeling this season.

—Yesterday's Cincinnati "Commercial" says:—The Juniata, for Pittsburgh, departed with 300 tons, including 200 tons of hay. Her cargo consists in part of 35 barrels lard oil; 160 buckets lard, 50 tcs hams, 790 sacks wheat, 30 bales cotton, 50 sacks peanuts, 200 pkgs manufactured tobacco, 200 empty oil barrels, 943 bales hay and straw, with furniture and miscellaneous freight, and 33 passengers.——The Paragon arrived from Pittsburgh last night with 400 tons——The Paragon, with 400 tons, and towing a barge, made the run from Ironton to Cincinnati in twelve hours. Nick and James Whitten were her pilots——Captain Clark, one of the R. R. Hudson's pilots, reports a coal barge sunk in the channel of the Ohio at Goose Island—the first island above Letart. Steamers pass down on the Ohio side of the sunken barge——CAIRO, Illinois, May 18.—The Arlington has a good trip up——The Esperanza has 116 blooms for Cincinnati, 200 tons of ore and 48 bales of moss for Wheeling, 300 sacks shipstuff, 383 barrels clay, 310 bars of iron, 125 sacks of bran, 186 tons pig iron, 460 blooms, and 38 sacks flaxseed for Pittsburgh.

—Tuesday's Cincinnati "Gazette" says:—The canal is filled with mud, and two of the gates have been down, so boats have been compelled to be still or take the chute on the falls—The John Dippold was at Bellaire yesterday with a broken shaft. She will be towed to Pittsburgh for repairs.

—The St. Louis "Democrat" of Monday says: Capt. Batchelor's commodious Mollie Ebert arrived from Pittsburgh with 770 tons, including 258 tons manufactured iron, 988 packages glassware, 917 boxes window glass, 28 bags peanuts and 1,94 kegs of nails. She will return to Pittsburgh on Tuesday afternoon.

—The Wheeling "Intelligencer" says: The steamer Ed. Hobbs arrived from St. Louis yesterday, making the quickest round trip from this city on record. She made the trip in nineteen days, bringing up two barges containing eleven hundred and fifty tons of iron ore.

—Gen. Nathan Ranney, who is still actively engaged in the steamboat business at St. Louis, is at present serving on a land case as witness in solving points remembered as having happened fifty years ago.

—Capt. James W Brannin, of Louisville, was drowned back of Helena a few days ago. He was in a canoe at the time, trying to save some live stock from the flood, when, by some means, the canoe was upset and Capt. B. lost his life.

—The Smoky City and barges, and Alice and barges arrived at New Orleans Saturday.

St. Louis Over Fifty Years Ago.

Davenport's "Gazetter of North America," published in 1832, says: "St. Louis is 1,200 miles by the course of the river above New Orleans, and is next, to that city, the largest and most commercial town on the Mississippi; population in 1831, 5,852. Six steamboats are regularly employed between St. Louis and New Orleans. A trip from one place to the other and back again usually occupies twenty-four days; the shortest time in which it was ever made was eighteen days, the usual fare for cabin passengers, descending, $30; ascending, $35; deck passengers, either way, $8; freight per 100, down, 37½c; up stream, 62½c. From St. Louis to Louisville, 680 miles, six boats run regularly, usual time of trip, ten or eleven days. fare of cabin passengers, about $15, deck $4, freight, about 25c per 100. One boat also ran regularly to Cincinnati, 150 miles above Louisville. Steamboats come occasionally to St. Louis from Pittsburgh and other places. From St. Louis to Ferry river, 480 miles, 3 steamboats are regularly employed, time occupied for trip ten days; fare for passengers ascending $15, descending $9. One of the boats occasionally extends the trip to St. Peter's river, 400 miles further up. Two boats run from St. Louis up the Missouri river to Franklin 200 miles, and to Fort Leavenworth 200 miles further up, freight to Franklin 75c per 100, to Fort Leavenworth $1 25 to $1.50. From St. Louis to Pekin, on the Illinois river, 180 miles, two or three boats are regularly employed."

HOME NEWS.

Died of Her Injuries.

Coroner McCallin held an inquest on Squirrel Hill yesterday, in the Twenty-second ward, on the body of Hildegart Heibert, aged two years and a half, who had died from the effects of scalds received on Saturday evening last. The child was at supper, when she upset the contents of a pot of boiling coffee over herself. She lingered till Monday night, when she died. A verdict in accordance was rendered.

Attempt to Rob From a Church Fair.

For some days past the ladies of the German Lutheran church, on Mount Washington, have been holding a fair in their church, and have a number of valuable articles on exhibition in the church. At an early hour yesterday morning a gentleman who was on watch in the church heard some one attempting to force an entrance and on his proceeding to the door, the party hastily decamped.

Suit Against the City.

Alderman Smith of Allegheny, yesterday had before him a suit against the City of Allegheny. The plaintiff was Adam Breining who owns a lot on Howard street Seventh ward. When the street was opened, through some mistake Breining's property was not designated in the plan, but was consolidated with another man's property and the award of $75 damages given to that man. Breining subsequently asked for damages, which was refused; hence the suit. A judgment was rendered against the city.

The Allegheny Park Commission

Met last evening and awarded the contract for cutting the grass in the Parks to B. E. Gould, for the sum of $215 for each cutting, he to give bond in the sum of $1,000 for the faithful fulfillment of the contract. A communication from the G. A. R. Post No. 88 was submitted, asking permission to hold their memorial ceremonies on Monument Hill, on Decoration Day. Communication received and the request granted. A sub-committee was appointed to purchase grass cutting machines.

Adjourned.

Thomas Davidson's Will.

Yesterday the will of Thomas Davidson, late of the Nineteenth ward, was filed in the County Registers office. He directs that $1,000 be expended on the family cemetery lot. To his sister Margaret, he bequeaths, $500, and to his wife Rebecca, $20,000, and also the rents of his real estate for one year after his decease. He also gives his wife the use of the dwelling house and property attached thereto during her natural life. He bequeathes $20,000 to each of eight children to be paid in annual installments of five thousand dollars each, in four years. In case there be any surplus after the distribution of these bequests, the same is to be distributed among the surviving children. John S. Davidson, a son, is appointed executor. The will is dated April 24, 1874.

A Geological Speculation.

It is claimed by some there is good reason to believe that our rivers which now unite at the point once joined their waters nearly seven miles higher up, the old bed being a valley that stretches in long curves from river to river, near Brushton. One has but to observe the smooth, gradually deepening bottom, the gentle slope and the peculiar formation of the bordering hills to think it possible. And below the surface there is a deep, compact bed of sand and gravel spreading over the entire valley and containing shells and large round boulders, such as are found only in water courses. So that the theory is very well supported by geological facts.

As for the time, the eighteen feet of soil above the sand seem to indicate that at least this bed was never darkened by the shadow of a passing steamboat. To the local geologists this has long been a matter of interest and they probably could advance still further proof.

Death of Mrs. Fleming.

Another of our oldest and most venerable residents has passed from among us. Mrs. Margaret Fleming died on Monday, in the 98th year of her age. She was the widow of the late Mr. James Fleming, a much respected farmer in what was formerly Pitt township, in this county, who died in 1836. Mrs. F. was a native of Glasgow, Scotland, from whence she emigrated to this vicinity in 1798, and settled with her husband, and has ever since resided on the estate where she died, now in the Twenty-second ward of the city. She was an eminently pious and good woman, greatly respected by all her neighbors, and retained her faculties but slightly impaired until the end. Her illness was brief, and at no time otherwise alarming than as in connection with her great age, on which account the fatal issue was not unexpected. The powers of nature were at last exhausted and an aged and exemplary Christian lady has gone to her reward. Four sons and two daughters, one residing in Ohio, the others in different parts of Pennsylvania, survive her. She has for many years been a consistent and devoted member of the Presbyterian Church. "Happy are the dead who die in the Lord."

Domestic Arrangements of the Orientals.

The tenth session of the Normal Class of Sunday School officers and teachers, was held last night in the Liberty street M. E. Church, and proved to be the most entertaining yet held of the series. These meetings are characterized by their educating influence. The advanced system under consideration, tends to render the work of the teacher less laborious, more pointed and thorough, and more of a success and a delight. The exercises require a competent and active leader, and thus far the class has been fortunate in this particular. Wm. J. Jackson, Esq., conducted the devotional exercises last evening, at the close of which Mr. Samuel W. Hay, the appointed leader, announced the topic, "Domestic Arrangements of the Orientals." The manner in which the lesson was managed, made it exceedingly interesting, and touched upon seats and postures in prayer, tables and eating beds, grinding corn, lamps and ovens, water and wine skins. So numerous were the inquiries from the pupils upon the "Manners and Customs of the Bible Times," that it was long after the usual hour of adjournment before the lesson closed, apparently to the regret of many.

AMUSEMENTS.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—The play of "Kit; or The Arkansas Traveler," is proving immensely successful at the Opera House. Mr. Chanfrau gives an original characterization of Kit which is at once natural and pleasing. Mr Chanfrau is one of our cleverest comedians, and the character of Kit does him no discredit. He is admirably supported by the stock company. The liberality of the management has caused the piece to be appropriately mounted, and it runs along pleasantly and smoothly. It will be repeated this evening. Box office open all day for the securing of seats.

MARTIN'S NEW VARIETIES THEATRE.—This place continues to present its various multiplied attractions to full audiences. This afternoon a matinee will be given, for which a good programme has been prepared. This evening a change of bill.

"SPECIAL LEGISLATION."

The Significance of one Little Word.

After all special legislation is possible, notwithstanding the stringent regulations of the new Constitution under which we are now sailing. A case in point was a little bill from Allegheny, which was before the Legislature in the closing days of the session and which almost went through. The bill in itself seemed innocent enough, for it merely provided that when any municipality desired to grade or pave any plankroad or turnpike within the city limits, or had "heretofore" done such work the same should be legal without requiring the sanction of the plankroad company and the costs thereof should be assessed and collected in the usual way.

The bill seemed so fair that our representatives at Harrisburg, after scanning it carefully, could see no objection to it until their minds were a little enlightened. The whole trouble was in the little word "heretofore," which made the provisions of the bill retroactive, and thus made a law to cover a case that is now before Court. This case is in reference to the extension of Buena Vista street, Allegheny, which was opened out to the Perrysville Plank Road. When the road was reached it was found that it would have be graded down also several hundred feet, or the new street would be of no use. This grading down cost 75 cents per yard, while the other portion of the street had only cost 28 cents. The people on the plankroad objected to such an onerous assessment, which amounted to about $4,000, and went into court on the point of law that the city had no right to grade down the plankroad without the consent of the company, which consent had not been given; on this point a decision is awaited.

The little bill, however, with its retroactive clause, would have swept the underpinning from this position, but when thus explained at Harrisburg, on the second reading, it was consigned to the waste basket.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Conventions.

The committee of six appointed by the County Republican Executive Committee, to prepare a plan for seperating the County Conventions, to be held in June, did not meet last night as was expected, but will consider the matter assigned them this evening. From a conversation with some of the members we learn that the Committee will, in all probability, recommend a division of the Conventions, as was proposed at the last meeting of the Executive Committee,—that is, to have the Legislative, Congressional, and Senatorial held in Allegheny, and the others, in Pittsburgh. Definite action, so far as the committee of six is concerned, will be taken tonight. Their report will then go before the General Executive Committee for final action.

The Liquor League's Political Leanings.

Yesterday afternoon a special meeting of the Liquor League was held at their headquarters, on Fifth avenue. The League holds its meeting with closed doors. A knight of the quill, who very injudiciously displayed his note book, attempted to interview one of the leading spirits of the League as to their deliberations, but was met with the reply—

"O, no, you don't; it was a secret meeting."

"Certainly," quoth the scribe, "it was secret; but the general public don't want you to hide your light under a bushel."

"Would you have me break my oath?"

"Oh, no," responded the virtuous knight, "not at all, but—"

"Well, the long and short of it is—that we have decided to take a hand in the political fight—"

"I thought you always took a little hand" interrupted the scribe.

"I was about to say that we are going to take a more active part in this canvass than any heretofore. Now I can't enter into details, but that's about the situation."

The news-gatherer, with that urbane courtesy characteristic of the race, accepted the information thus given, but also sought elsewhere for further information. The result of these researches was a development of the fact, that the league was to act in unison with the other liquor leagues throughout the State in "looking for its rights" in a political way, during the coming campaign. It is said that the repeal of the Local Option law is the end sought, and that the action of the leagues throughout the State will be guided with that idea in view.

Politics in the Seventh Ward.

Agreeable to a call, a number of citizens of the Seventh ward met last evening in the Franklin school house. Mr. Joseph H. Roush presided and Mr. Saml. Frank acted as Secretary. Immediately after the organization, it was moved that the meeting go into a nomination of a candidate for Select Council to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of U. S. District Attorney Reed.

Mr. Kelley was opposed to making a nomination and a vote was taken on the matter which resulted in a tie, and it was then concluded to adjourn without making a nomination in opposition to Mr. John A. Musgrave, who was nominated at a meeting held by the Republicans some two weeks ago in the same place. Those who oppose Mr. Musgrave, we are informed, will run Mr. George Wamhoff as a citizens' candidate.

The South Side Senatorial Fight

The contest in the Allegheny Senatorial District over the nomination, waxes warm and interesting between the aspirants and their friends. Hugh McNeill, Esq, one of the candidates for the honors of the upper House, has a host of devoted friends, who are pushing his claims with vigor and directness. He will make a good Senator, as his qualifications are of the sterling kind, clear headed, and thoroughly conscientious, a successful business man, free from all entangling alliances of every description, just such characteristics as are wanted at Harrisburg at this time.

Hon. J. S. Newmyer.

We take pleasure in bearing willing testimony to the fact that among the more recent representatives from this county in the State Legislative, none have shown a greater regard for the wishes of the people as expressed or understood, and no one has acquired a better reputation for fearless and outspoken independence and a conscientious course on all leading topics than Hon. John S. Newmyer. He has proved himself in every way worthy of the confidence reposed in him by his constituents, and in the recent session reached a position in the lower House, solely by his merits, which none but a conscientious, able and fearless member could have gained and held.

Councilman Elected.

The election for Common Council, to fill the unexpired term of D. W. C. Carroll, Esq., in the Second ward, yesterday, resulted in favor of Mr. Neville B. Dilworth The following are the official returns: N. B. Dilworth, 131; Dr. Terburg, 28; James Irwin, 14; total vote, 173; Dilworth's majority over both, 89 It is but justice to state that Mr. Irwin was not a regular candidate, his name being used without his knowledge or consent. Very little interest was taken in the election, hence the small vote polled.

The special election to fill the vacancy in the Select Council for this ward, will be held on Friday, and from present indications, the contest then will be quite lively.

Young Men's Republican Club.

The Young Men's Republican Club of Allegheny held a meeting at their rooms last evening. There was a full attendance, and a number of accessions were made to the roll of the club. The only business transacted outside of the election of new members, was the adoption of a number of amendments to the constitution—of no material importance. Among the items of business laid over under the rules for consideration at the next meeting was a proposed amendment to the constitution requiring the club room to be closed on Sunday.

APPEALS FROM CITY ASSESSMENTS.

Last evening the Council Committee on Appeals from City Assessments met in City Assessor Phelps' office in Municipal Hall. Mr. West in the chair.

On motion, Mr. Miller was heard on the appeal of J. McD. Crossan and others in regard to the assessment of the Monongahela House. The building and grounds is assessed at $387,000, while it is claimed that it was bought at only $200,000. The gentleman stated that he thought $200,000 was all that it was worth. Pure Starch.

When starch is pure, it is free from sourness and is purely white. Inferior starch has a golden or yellow tinge, the color of flour, indicating the presence of gluten (a color not desirable in one's linen), or is sour and musty. It is absurd for the laundress to cleanse and bleach and then discolor linen with impure golden or yellow starch. Duryeas' "Satin Gloss Starch" is snow white, perfectly pure, and the most economical starch known."

Court of Common Pleas.

[Before Judge Sterrett.]

A verdict for defendant was returned in the case of Owens vs. Dickens, tried before Judge Stowe.

The case of Mills vs. Mills is still on trial, and will probably last the remainder of the week. Charles Mills, who was first placed on the stand by the plaintiff, was subjected to a rigorous cross-examination by Mr. Wood, and was on the stand when Court adjourned.

In his examination in chief his testimony was much the same as the statement given by Mr. Shiras in his opening address yesterday. The ground of defense has not yet been revealed, but it is expected they will endeavor to show that the property was really purchased by the two brothers, and that when Charles, the younger, sold his interest to Isaac, he sold a one-half interest, thereby giving Isaac full possession of and a good title to the whole of the farm. It came out in the cross-examination this morning, that Isaac had made written agreements to pay $1,000 to each of his three sisters, somewhere about 1835. The papers with his signature attached, were produced, it appearing that they were found among the mother's property after her death. These were offered as tending to show that the original idea was that Isaac after purchasing Charles' interest to pay each of his sisters $1,000, in consideration of the share they took in furnishing means for the purchase of the property. A paper was also produced showing that Isaac had agreed to provide for his parents during their lifetime, and in connection with this provision, he was to give a consideration to his sisters. These things were presented to show that Isaac was really the owner, but at the same time he was to care for the rest of the family. The papers offering $1,000 to the sisters were never accepted, however, at least never by Rachel, the plaintiff. The plaintiff claims that these offers to buy her out are evidence that her interest was recognized by her brother, while the defendant claims that they were not offers to purchase her interest, but merely offers to furnish means for her support, while at the same time she was allowed to live on the farm.

There is no change in the trial list from that published yesterday morning.

PERSONAL.

S. S. Pinkerton, Chicago, Hon. J. S. Rutan and Hon. M. S Quay, of Beaver, were registered at the Union Depot Hotel yesterday.

Col. J. J. Lawrence, of the Allegheny Valley Railroad, left for Altoona last evening, where a meeting of railroad superintendents will be held to-day to revise time tables.

Mr. David Mears, last week returned to this city on a visit to his mother, sisters and brothers, after a residence of nearly a quarter of a century in the mineral regions of the Pacific slope. We may not say that the welcome he received, especially that from his aged mother after so long an absence, was most affecting. He will stay with us awhile.

POLICE PARAGRAPHS.

YESTERDAY morning Henrietta Wiedman charged her husband, Henry, alias "Snowball" Wiedman, before Alderman Krebar, with deserting and abusing her, and refusing to contribute to her support. When arrested "Snowball" declared his intention of going to jail rather than maintain Henrietta. He was therefore entombed.

HENRY MOORE yesterday made an information before Alderman McMasters, charging Thomas Boggs and William Caughey, now in the work house, with stealing metal from him. His mill is in Arrova, Elk county, and the iron was boated down the river. The terms of the men expire in June 11th, and the Alderman will have them re arrested when their terms expire.

ON Monday evening Frank Fitz, Maggie Butterfield, Emma Neiland, and Emma Humphries, drove out for an airing on Penn avenue, and through a rather free indulgence in "fire water" arrived at the Scott House, near Soho, in a very proper mood for mischief making. Here they called for more liquor and on being refused, irate Maggie Butterfield took a pop at Mr. Scott with her little revolver, but fortunately overshot her mark, the ball passing over his head. At this point several policemen arrived and speedily conveyed the whole party to the Fourteenth ward station house. In the morning after a hearing they were fined $25 each. Maggie payed her fine; but the rest received thirty days in default thereof.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

Possible Suicide of Wm. Espey, of Moon Township—Note Found Pinned to his Horse's Saddle—Rumor of his Departure on a Western Train

Mr. William Espey, son of Colonel Wm. Espey, of Scott township, has mysteriously disappeared, and the circumstances, so far as developed, seem to indicate that he has committed suicide, although the case is as yet in a measure wrapped in obscurity. Mr. Espey was in this city on Monday evening, and hired a horse from Messrs. Campbell & Aiken, livery men, on Third avenue, to go to his home, in Moon township. At the time he got the animal, which was between seven and eight o'clock, he appeared to be in a very good humor and quite cheerful, acting as though the thought of suicide had never entered his mind. He mounted the horse and rode off, and the toll-keeper of the bridge that crosses Chartiers creek near its mouth saw him ride past. Early yesterday morning Mr. Philip Burkhardt, driver of an ice wagon, while on his way to the city crossed the same bridge and noticed a horse tied near it. When he returned he found the horse still there and noticed a piece of paper pinned to the saddle. Taking charge of it he gave it in possession of 'Squire Guthrie, of Chartiers township, who brought the horse to the city and it was delivered to Campbell & Aiken, from whom young Espey had hired it. The paper found pinned to the saddle was written on both sides in pen and ink. The lines in pencil were as follows, but the signature was in ink.

DEAR WIFE:—I had trouble enough before, but since I lost my money, which I had stolen from me, I cannot stand it. So good-bye my dear wife and my dear son Eddie, for the watery grave in the great deep.

WILLIAM ESPEY.

On the other side, written in ink, was the following:

PITTSBURGH, May 18, 1874.

DEAR WIFE:—"I left you this morning, dear, with all my money."

* * * * * * * *

"Dear, I left you this morning with all my money, but I saw no parties and could not pay anything. You knew before that I had trouble enough."

Col. Espey identifies the signature as that of his son, but is in doubt as to whether the balance was written by him. It has been learned, however, that the young man called at the house of Mr. McGonnigle, at McKee's rocks, on Monday evening, about nine o'clock, and asking for pen, ink and paper, which were furnished him, he did some writing in an adjoining room. The note would seem to indicate that he was in financial trouble, but his father thinks his difficulty in that respect could not have amounted to much, as he has only been in business for himself a little over a year, his father having bought him a farm in Moon township. He borrowed money to buy lumber some weeks ago to fix his house, but the bill only amounted to about $300. He gave his note for the money, and his father, who endorsed it, does not know of any other financial transaction on the part of his son, and even if he had lost or been robbed of that sum, he thinks it would hardly have led him to commit suicide. Wm. Espey was about twenty-five years of age, and has a brother, James Espey, in the sewing machine business on Sixth street. Men were engaged the whole of yesterday afternoon searching and dragging Chartiers creek for the body, but the last reports were to the effect that their efforts had been fruitless.

—We have been informed that Mr. Espey was seen and spoken to yesterday afternoon, between a quarter past one and twenty minutes of two o'clock, by two gentlemen who knew him, at the Union Depot. He was on a westward bound train.

PUT THE SYSTEM IN FIGHTING TUNE.

The great object in cases of indigestion and its accompanying derangements of the liver, bowels and nerves, is to put the stomach in a condition to dissolve readily and without pain, the food submitted to its action. This is accomplished, and much more than this, by the daily use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. A dose should be taken before every meal. The good effect will soon be apparent. The loss of flesh, strength and energy which usually occurs in dyspepsia will be arrested. The determination of bile to the skin will cease, and that cathartic fluid will pass in the bowels and assist in keeping them free. Every organ connected or dependent upon the stomach will be toned and renovated. The kidneys, the sifters of the system, will be beneficially influenced, as well as the liver, the alimentary canal and the pores. In short, the whole organization will be put in fighting trim necessary to resist and expel disease. If the medicine is taken regularly and persistently, this result will inevitably follow.
